Hand Hygiene

It Only Takes One Incident to Destroy a Reputation

Why Clean Matters

Did you know the second leading cause of foodborne illness is poor hand hygiene?

Being in contact with raw food, cleaning surfaces and equipment or handling waste can lead to hands becoming contaminated. Microbes (i.e. bacteria, fungi, viruses) are not visible and can spread unknowingly from one person to another.

Ecolab offers a complete hand hygiene package including EN tested disinfectants as well as soaps, moisturisers and skin protectors.

After handling raw food, many foodborne pathogens can be found on hands including Staphylococcus and E.coli.

Clean Without a Doubt

Learn more about Nexa

Ecolab help to wash more than 31 billion hands annually across the globe. Our latest hand care innovation, Nexa, is the perfect combination of bacteria-killing chemistry with technology and training

- ▲ The anti-drip pump used in the dispenser pulls excess product back in, helping to avoid costly product waste and slips and falls
- ▲ Up-to 99% of product is dispensed
- ▲ Easily recycled, collapsible bottles
- ▲ Energy saving touch free dispenser lasts 44% longer before requiring a change of battery*

Nexa's Foam products require 30% less dosage volume compared to traditional liquid soaps, so a smaller amount of product can be used without compromising on the cleaning efficiency. Plus because foam soap requires less chemicals than liquid soaps, you don't need as much water to rinse the product, which saves on water and the energy required to warm it.
