

QUESTIONS

Q1	Where	should you look for information about the hazards for a certain chemical?
	O a.	Your Employer's written program
	O b.	The Safety Data Sheet or label
	O c.	A chemical inventory
	O d.	Your coworkers
Q2 Where should you go to identify the PPE to wear		should you go to identify the PPE to wear when handling any chemical?
	O a.	Ask a co-worker
	O b.	Read SDS, read label, ask supervisor
	O C.	See what others are wearing
	O d.	Talk to a friend
Q3	Which o	of the following should you never do?
	O a.	Use the appropriate amount of a chemical
	O b.	Use a high-pressure hose
	O c.	Add chemicals to water
	O d.	Mix acids and chlorinated products
Q4	What ty	pe of information do you need to know before handling chemicals?
	O a.	Location of eye wash stations and emergency showers
	O b.	Procedures for handling spills
	O C.	Evacuation procedures
	O d.	All of these

SAMESHOW QUESTIONS (circle yes or no)

Are Safety Data Sheets attached to chemical containers? Yes / No

Does the Globally Harmonized System, or GHS, mandate a standard format for and SDS? Yes / No

Should you dissolve alkakis in hot water? Yes / No

Do goggles protect your eyes better than safety glasses when handling chemicals? Yes / No

Is your employer required to keep a chemical inventory? Yes / No

QUESTIONS

40
Q1	What is a Safety Data Sheet?
	a. A record of injuries
	O b. A list of chemicals
	O c. Production log
	<ul> <li>d. A document containing all the relevant information you need to safely handle a chemicals</li> </ul>
Q2	What type of information would likely NOT be included in a Safety Data Sheet?
	a. Identification information about the product
	b. List of container sizes
	C How to work with a chemical

SAMESHOW QUESTIONS (circle yes or no)

Are there multiple formats for the SDS? Yes / No

d. Emergency response and spill information

Does the SDS include recommended PPE? Yes / No

Is the SDS less detailed than the label? Yes / No

Should you use a chemical without reading the SDS? Yes / No

Does the SDS include important information for the emergency response? Yes / No

QUESTIONS

Q1	When are employers required to label chemicals?
	a. When chemicals are dangerous
	O b. If the manufacturer supplied the information oc. Only when workers ask them to O d. Always
Q2	What information do you find in the "Product Identifier"?
	O a. Pictograms
	<ul><li>b. The hazard statement</li></ul>
	oc. The signal word
	d. The product name and descriptor
Q3	What should you do if you fill a secondary container with a chemical?
	a. Shake it to mix the chemical O b. Use it as soon as possible
	oc. Label the secondary container
	Od. Show it to your supervisor

SAMESHOW QUESTIONS (circle yes or no)

Is the label more detailed than the SDS? Yes / No

Should every chemical have a label? Yes / No

Are there four different pictograms? Yes / No

Is "Danger" the most severe signal word? Yes / No

Are unlabeled chemicals always considered hazardous? Yes / No

